WORLD GOVERNMENT IMMINENT

Proposed United Nations Charter Plot To Legalize General Assembly Resolution Law Making It Binding On All Member Nations

The United Nations has failed in its mission to keep peace in the world and is on the verge of collapse. More than forty wars since 1940 is the direct result of the UN so-called PEACE ACTIONS. Now a propaganda campaign is on way to enlist Senate support and approval for a new UN Charter, contents of which can be found in a new book by Grenville Clark and Louis Sohn "WORLD PEACE THROUGH LAW."

The General Assembly of the UN has been governing the world for more than ten years by General Assembly Resolution, an ENTIRELY ILLEGAL PROCESS. Now, to save itself, the UN is trying to LEGALIZE Resolution Law by this new charter. Recent exposure of the Resolution Law has no doubt brought about this move to get the Senate to adopt a new charter which will LEGALIZE the ILLEGAL actions of the General Assembly the past ten years which have fastened so much un-Constitutional law upon the United States.

This diabolical plot to make General Assembly Law legally binding on all member nations — the entire world — must be stopped. WE DO NOT NEED THE UNITED NATIONS in the first place. An evil tree cannot bear good fruit. We ask our readers to write their Senators not only NOT TO SUPPORT AND APPROVE THE NEW UN CHARTER, but to urge them to GET THE UNITED STATES OUT OF THE UNITED NATIONS AND THE UNITED NATIONS OUT OF THE UNITED STATES. There can be no peace in the world until this den of iniquity, this tower of babel, is destroyed forever.

The following editorial from the Fort Lauderdale News is frightening.

By HARVEY A. CALL

Blueprints for a vast world change need not be either bulky nor prettied up for a ready sale to unsuspecting people.

That was evident last week when some 1,800 editors of daily newspapers across the nation received a simple memo and a rather plain, unimpressive appearing pamphlet. It was entitled: "The United Nations of 1975" with a subtitle of "A Conference to Study U.N.'s Role in the Next Decade."

The package was wrapped up in three and a quarter pages of type — less than 1,000 words all told. But what those 1,000 words told!

At the outset — the "conference" — consisting of some 15 world figures — observed what has been observed so often, namely that "there is a grave danger the U.N. may not survive the next 10 years."

Because of this, the group maintains there must be "complete and enforced disarmament of all nations"; a permanent U.N. peace force to maintain international peace"; "A GENERAL ASSEMBLY EMPOWERED TO ADOPT BINDING RULES AND REGULATIONS . . . and implementing the disarmament plan"; "a revised voting system appropriate to the strengthened

JAMES PAUL WARBURG

"We shall have world government whether we like it or not. The only question is whether world government will be achieved by conquest or consent."

The above statement by James Paul Warburg made before the Senate, Feb. 17, 1950, spearheaded the drive of the Invisible Government for a world super state. The proposed new charter of the UN will legalize the Zionist blueprint for world government.

U.N. including abolition of the present 'veto power' in the Security Council," a system of courts to decide issues; "A WORLD DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM" requiring that the world use a substantially larger share of its resources to promote the economic and social advancement of the less-developed nations"; "a reliable and adequate revenue system" for the U.N. (meaning taxing powers), and eligibility of all nations for membership.

Summed up, this amounts to a blueprint for a super world government.

The proposals for forced disarmament are the key to reducing nations to the status of boroughs of the world organization. It is specified that "each nation would retain only strictly limited and lightly armed forces for internal order."

Vital, too, is the proposal to abolish the "veto power" which has enabled the major powers of the world to retain a voice in U.N. affairs despite the watering down of General Assembly votes through the vastly increased membership over the past 20 years.

The document would be somewhat less significant if it were not for the fact it was transmitted to the permanent delegates over the signatures of two past presidents of the General Assembly — Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines and Sir Muhammad Zafulla Khan of Pakistan.

The blueprint does not purport to be an official recommendation in any sense — merely the conclusions of "friends" of the U.N. And, it is specified they met in San Francisco last June under the auspices of the Stanley Foundation of Muscatine, Iowa.

Distribution of the blueprint, however, is timely as it seeks to ride on the coattails of the peace appeals by President Johnson and Pope Paul. It sounds a world call for people to rally for the U.N. reforms proposed:

"Every citizen and every nation should press for a Charter Review Conference UNTIL THE DEMAND BECOMES IRRESISTIBLE. The smaller nations now have the opportunity to lead the way," it was asserted.

In directing the attention to the smaller nations and calling upon them to assume leadership, the proposal invites the "emerging nations," many of which have fallen under the influences of communism or are the active targets of Red programs, to clamor for these changes.

All of this might be dismissed as of minor significance if it were not for the fact the United Nations has failed in its peace-keeping mission. As a result, it is threatened with collapse. The alternative would appear to be reorganization and that might well be along the lines of creating a world government with full power to crack down on all nations. The "police force," as it might be called, would actually be the ruling force of the world capable of subjugating all people and determining what freedoms, if any, the people should have.

Now is the time to recognize this move for what it really is — the push for one world government that has been the cherished hope of liberals, those who place themselves above nationalism and the Communists who see such an organization as the instrument to rule the world.

EACH ONE REACH ONE

As we reflect the critical situation of our country, and how dangerously close we are to losing it to a diabolical, insane enemy, we realize it is primarily because the truth has not been given to the people.

If the truth were known, the American people would rise up as one and destroy the traitors who are subverting every phase of their lives from birth to death.

At this late hour, we will not make any rash promise that we can save the world, but we do know that every informed person is a nail in the enemy's coffin.

We must reach more people with the truth. Will you join the crusade by sending us a dollar and ten names of local town-folk to whom we will send samples of Common Sense? Like a pebble dropped in a lake, we will never know where the ripple ends—we will never know the good that will result from this effort within the means of everyone. Remember, there is only one straw needed to break the camel's back—will it be yours?

Send us your dollar and ten names today. Stamps welcome and appreciated.

We never reveal name of donor, unless specifically requested to do so.
